BREED THEATER.

Wonderfully attractive motion pictures of the usual high grade served to bring out large audiences at both performances at the Breed yesterday, and certainly one has to stop, look and listen in order to be convinced that the pictures are not the genuine drama being enacted in person instead of a silent drama being projected upon a sensational New York paper concerning my marriage with my clderly people who have hitherto been mable to witness a motion picture enumber to the contraction of Grave Mistakes.

It is a well established axlom that the best way to take risks is to avoid them. And when you buy a suit or overcost the way to avoid taking a risk as to the quality of the material book for the trademark of the maker No concern that makes pure all wool in, Fine's parents were in New York for his funeral services, and there was nothing of the haste about the arrangements which the New York paper stated. As I was too prostrated to see the reporter when he called at my New York home, he drew on his imagination for sensational facts to make out a story. Yours truly, MARY C. ADLES FINE.

clderly people who have hitherto been unable to witness a motion picture entertainment without unpleasant and cainful after effects are seen at the Breed at every change of pictures, many of them remaining through both evening performances. This is a fact well known to the regular patrons, who are in distinct accord with these older ones who declare the pictures to be the finest lighted, smoothest running and altogether the most natural motion pictures they have ever seen. Conspicuous on the bill is the sturnedous story of Havana entifled A Case of High Treason. This is an Edison masterpiece and overflowing with pure drama of the high class and with pure drama of the high class and magnificent scenery and acting.

With Richard R. Sinciair, secretary of the Aero club, holding the package, Sopwith rose from the aviation grounds at Garden City, sped out to the Olympic as she bore ponderously down the Hudgon, timed his flight to meet her in the Narrows, and set his course over land and sen.
Even from the pier end, passengers on the Olympic are no more than animated dots of white and black to those on shore. Presently there was to be on shore. Presently there was to be seen among these dots a scurrying to and fro, as of hits of paper blown by the wind. Sopwith had been sighted bearing down on them from aloft. SCRATCHED TILL BLOOD RAN "When my boy was about three months old, his head broke out with a rash which was very itchy and ran a watery fluid. We tried everything we could but he got worse all the time, till it spread to his arms, legs and then to his entire body. He got so bad that he came near dying. The rash would itch so that he would scratch till the blood ran, and a thin yellowish stuff would be all over his pillow in the morning. I had to put mittens on his hands to prevent him tearing his skin. He was so weak and run down that he took fainting spells as if he were dying. He was almost a skeleton and his little hands were thin like claws. He was bad about eight months when we tried Cutieura Remedies. I had not laid him down in his cradle in the daytime for a long while. I washed him with Cutieura Soap and put on one application of Cutieura Ointment and he was so soothed that he could sleep. You don't know how glad I was he felt better. It took one box of Cutieura Cointment and pretty near one cake of Cuticura Soap to cure him. I think our how would have died but don't know now guad I was no lent oester. It took one box of Cuticura Contment and pretty near one cake of Cuticura Soap to cure him. I think out boy would have died but for the Cuticura Remedies and I shall always remain a firm friend of them. There has been no return of the trouble." Mrs. M. C.
